

Every Man Approached Today is Added to the Roll of Honor Including Hon. C. W. Cross, Hon. Wilfrid Gariépy and Hon. P. E. Lessard—Mayor Explains

President W. J. Magrath of the Ad Club said today that there is hardly a doubt that the $50,000 now being asked for to drill for gas near Vegreville will be raised by Monday, and although Mr. Magrath did not say so, there is a probability that the fund will be increased to $100,000, so generous is the response by the citizens of Edmonton.

Several members of the committee have been in poor health today and yesterday, and only two have been able to do any work. However, $24,550 had been promised up to last night, and in half an hour's work this morning one of the committee members saw the following and secured from them the amounts set opposite their respective names:

Hon. C. W. Cross	$1,000
Hon. Wilfrid Gariepy	$1,000
Hon. P. E. Lessard	$1,000
James A. Powell	$1,000
Col. B. J. Saunders	$1,000
Walter P. Parsons	$500

Mr. Magrath stated that these six were all who were approached this morning, which indicates the widespread approval of the proposal and the confidence the people of Edmonton have in the men who are carrying it out.

On Monday it is expected that the full committee will go out on the

Tabloid Grand Opera Presented by Two Well Known Stars.

DISMAL FAILURE TEELS
AUDIENCE HIS TROUBLES
Duncan and Holt Give Colored
Impersonations, and Dance to Make Hit.

Headline honors for the new program starting Monday night at the Pantages have been accorded to the Riding Duttons who style themselves society equestrians and ably bear out the name. They do their various tricks with a grace and skill that few of ever any riders have acquired. They are four of them and they use a cart built along the lines of the jaunting cars so much used throughout Ireland. They carry with them four splendid specimens of horses who have been carefully trained to work in unison with their riders, and the act from advance notices is really the most complete riding numbers started in vaudeville.

A dainty theatrical bit in the form of a tabloid grand opera is presented by Rhoda and Crampton two well known opera stars who have this season turned to the vaudeville stage. They offer a playlet with music entitled "Between The Reels" which introduces several favorite selections from the list of grand and classic operas. Among them being Faust, Marmion, Bohemian Girl and Tales of Hoffman. Miss Rhoda and Mr. Crampton occupy a unique position in vaudeville as they present the only act in which grand opera roles are legitimately interpreted by artists of reputation.

Patsy Doyle has been dubbed the Sad Man on account of the melancholy manner in which he tells his jokes. Mr. Doyle is a tall and unfortunate-looking fellow who has been through his life with a wonderful persistence, and as a result he is very lugubrious and laughable. There is a little break in his voice at the end of each sentence which emphasizes the point in a new and individual fashion. He sings a humorous ballad based on the pathos of failure, and does a fatalistic study which is one of the most amusing things in repertoire. Manner is more than matter in the art of tale-telling, and comedian's manner makes such that he makes the audience laugh in tremendous spasms of merriment. Clara Stevens and Co. in a dainty dancing number will open the bill, while Duncan and Holt in several delicious of the colored population, which will conclude the bill.

FRENCH AMATEUR
DRAMATIC SOCIETY
GIVE PERFORMANCE

Those interested in the promotion of the histrionic art in the city will be pleased to learn that the "Cercle Dramatique" Jeanne d'Arc, as well known French dramatic organization in the French colony, Le Capitaine Tio, which they expect to present in the city about the middle of February. In the past eight months this society has staged four French plays, and at each there has been a very large attendance. The last one was "The Two Orphans" and those who attended were loud in their praises of the clever performance and excellent acting of the cast on that occasion.

That the productions put on by this organization are popular may be gathered from the fact that at the last performance they gave there was an audience which numbered fully six hundred and it is safe to predict that the next they give will attract an even larger crowd.

"Le Capitaine Tio" will be under direction of A. C. Humbert, and the following among others will take part: A. Leduc, W. Blair, A. Frank, Misses Cooper and Dutcan.

DETECTIVE STORY
MONARCH'S BEST

An Original Film Character
Originated by Laura Sawyer of Players' Film Co.

SEQUEL TO "CHELSEA 7750"

Picture Shown for Last Time
Tonight—Attracts Large Crowds.

At the Monarch theater today for the last time the famous detective story, "An Hour Before Dawn," a sequel to "Chelsea 7750," will be seen. The Famous Players Film company have created a new female detective, an ingenious, aggressive, original film character, whose corporate correlative is Laura Sawyer, late leading lady of the Edison Co. In "Chelsea 7750," she supported Henry E. Dixey, and assisted him in tracing and tracking the gang of counterfeiters in "An Hour Before Dawn," which strikes new methods and incidentally saves two lovers from the penalty of a crime which they did not commit, although their guilt did seem rather evident.

Written and directed by J. Searle, the story is based on the astounding discovery by Signor Ulivi, the Italian engineer, of a power element destructive force, technically known as infra red ray, which has recently started the scientific world and to which the newspapers now are devoting so much space. The mystery element is introduced when Prof. Wallace, a scientific authority, strenuously objects to his son Richard's romance with Violet Dancer, a chorus girl. A heated altercation between father and son follows, during which the professor threatens to disinherit the headstrong boy if he persists in his infatuation. The next day the professor is found dead, and Kate Kirby is engaged to trace the crime. On the strength of the motive, the lovers are suspected, until Miss Kirby traces the scientist's death to his latest invention, a deadly machine, by means of which it is possible to direct and impel a terrific explosive force, which Miss Kirby demonstrates caused the professor's death. Whose hand operated the sinister contrivance is, however, left to the imagination of the audience.

EXCELLENT STORY OF WESTERN LIFE

Dreamland Feature is "The Breed of the North," a Two-reel Special.

MOUNTED POLICE FIGURE
Shows Narrow Escape From Clutches of Law of An Innocent Man.

"The Breed of the North," at the Dreamland today is one of the best pictures of its kind that has been shown in this city. It is a two-part special, giving a melodrama dealing with the Canadian northwest, and in which the R. N. W. M.P. play an important part. It is a double exposure picture with the leading man, Edgar Jones, playing twins who look just alike. One of brothers is accused of murder, of which he is innocent, but he is caught by his own brother, now in the service of the North West Mounted police. A cunning murderer, the half-breed, and the

Patsy Doyle, Sad and Fat
A Feature at Pantages

"Two Hundred and Forty Pounds of Sad and Lugubrious Flesh" is Description of "Patsy" by Dramatic Critics—Never Fails to Make a Hit, But Objects to Being Called "Fat."

"Two hundred and forty pounds of sad and lugubrious flesh." That is the description which Acton Davies the well known dramatic critic applied to Patsy Doyle who comes to Pantages next week, and the description is accurate in every way from all appearances. Patsy bears the name of "The Sad Man" of vaudeville, because of his stories and does his pathetic part as he makes out and off stage is one of the most dismal comedians before the public today.

A huge man, of almost elephantine proportions who walks slowly on the stage and stands absolutely immobile while delivering his bit of jokes in something that one rarely sees even in this day of funny amusement freaks. Patsy, however, is not nearly as dismal as he makes out and off stage is one of the most dismal comedians before the public today.

His appearance knows all to please that old theory that fat men are always loquacious for his doleful manner leads his hearers to suppose that he is a comedian of the first order. He is more or less dandified but latterly he has just dandified himself with walking on the stage in a quiet manner and in a manner even more quaint than a constant ripple of applause throughout the audience.

"Why does he do it?" Well he tells himself he has his reasons. "I know," says he, "that fat men are always supposed to be the happiest people on the face of the globe, and I don't just feel up to the mark as often happens and instead of going out and jollying my audience, I am in a lot of trouble. I was oppressed with the idea of work at all. I walked out on the stage feeling very low. I had extreme stage fright, and I was in a state of mind that I think was the cause of it all, and I told my stories in the same manner that I felt. I never expected to make a hit and the only thought that I had was to get off the stage and get home to my bed. But you can't imagine my surprise when I discovered that I was 'going over' great. The people just laughed their heads off, and I for the life of me could not understand why. The man-

The story will please lovers of justice. It is properly portrayed on the motion picture film, and some of the best players before the motion camera. Coming for the first part of the week is "A Modern Jacky" and "Hilda." This picture is a powerful story of a man's dual existence. Outwardly a respectable citizen, he is in reality a dangerous criminal. The picture is filled with action, one of those intensely interesting exposures of crime and its consequences and the fate of the criminal. His desperate duel in the dark results in an extraordinary climax.

"The Laughing Husband," says the London Review, "like other musical plays of the present time, is a mixture of farce and sentimental drama. Mr. Rydell's score, though not so elaborate as those of J. L. Heller, is a composition, whose work his music resembles, is orchestrated with the same fittingness and fullness of tone and displays an almost equal melodic invention, particularly in respect to the use of the strings, and the piano in rapid, the walls has an opportunity of releasing his voice, and if the public is not satisfied by waiting, there are at least three in "The Laughing Husband," any one of which might make the fortune of a worse piece.

BIJOU THEATER

"Thanhouse" Shown Plainly in Three Excellent Reels at Playhouse.

ATTENTION TO DETAILS
Third Installation of "Who Will Marry Mary" Series Also Shown.

One of the world's greatest classic grand operas, "Thanhouse," will be offered in motion pictures at the Bijou play-house theater for next Monday and Tuesday. This is of especial note in that the opera will be sung in Edmonton later in the week by the opera company that will appear at the Empire theater.

The pictures present the entire story plainly, thoroughly and most enterprisingly. Those who attend the presentation of the story in the movies will thus be in a far better position to follow the lines of the singers and more enjoyably appreciate it. But "Thanhouse," as shown in the three larger reels that will be seen at the Bijou is also a notable production and will intensely hold the attention of those who see it from their beginning to the end. It is a special feature of the famous manufacturer by the "Thanhouse," but also contains two other unique pictures namely, "Zu-Zu, the Band Leader," and "The Who Will Marry Mary" series which have been transferred to the first street theater. "Zu-Zu, the Band Leader," is the most wonderful comic success recently manufactured by the famous Key-stone Comic actors. Those who have seen the film of this successful producers that dominate the motion picture field without a rival, have appreciated the beautiful and bewitching actress of these successful comic players is also starred in this feature. Another word for this note is that this is a two reel production, something unusual for comic pictures.

The third part of the "Who Will Marry Mary" series will also be seen on this program. Hereafter this popular series of pictures will be seen at the Bijou. Hardly any series of movies have attracted the attention of the film-going public and have been rated following the "Mary" series have since their short introduction in Edmonton. Every Monday and Tuesday the program will contain a new installment of the "Mary" pictures until the entire set is run. The picture on this program is entitled "A Proposal from a Sculptor."

It appears as though one of the most and best varied picture programs presented in Edmonton is on at the Bijou for Monday and Tuesday.

Exclusive Service Films

Are the Pick of Motion Pictures in the World—Feature Secured for Monday and Tuesday Considered by Critics Best Ever Shown in Edmonton—Plenty of Comedy.

Edmonton's prettiest theatre is still presenting to its many patrons the wonderfully successful "Exclusive Service" pictures and they will continue to form the entire program at the Empress for the next few months. Without a question the "Exclusive Service" pictures are the new of any complete program of moving pictures ever presented in a local theatre. There is not merely feature shown but the entire number of pictures are features, and features that represent the highest in acting, the best construction in action, and the largest film manufacturers in the world.

This "Exclusive Service" is a vast deal of good to increase the popularity of the movies. It presents to the public in motion pictures what the stars of Broadway offer to the patrons of the stage were they to travel about the country.

When the management of the Empress announced to the people of Edmonton that they had secured a continuous service of these Exclusive Service pictures, it was not made clear to all that this theatre would be the only one in the city that would feature the "Exclusive Service" pictures, but it should interest one to know that when they see pictures at the Empress they are seeing the best, because the management is paying for it, and it in turn is given to their patrons at no increase of admission price.

For Monday and Tuesday an entire program will be presented which is a continuation of the "Exclusive Service" pictures. An Impelling railroad drama, a Latin drama feature "The Noble" and a comedy "A Quarter Back" constitute the program.

ANNA HELD IS AN ENTHUSIASTIC AND CAPABLE MOTORIST

Madame Anna Held joins with prominent Hudson Six owners like Albert Hildbrand, John Evans, Enrico Caruso, and others in her admiration for the streamline body and wire wheels. Her Hudson Six 52, which she drives around San Antonio, Texas, meets with the most satisfied approval of this rather critical artist.

The famous actress is thoroughly familiar with European motor-cars. She has always approved of the streamline effect, and her expressed satisfaction with the Hudson Six emphasizes the close agreement of the Hudson line with those of leading European models.

The Freeman Company, the local Hudson distributor, commencing on this yesterday, explained how the Hudson designers had visited all important European centers on an investigating tour, while the streamline body was under consideration. Though streamlined and graceful, there were mechanical difficulties to be overcome in producing this handsome type. Success was finally attained by modeling the body in wax. From this were taken the curves and measurements for the metal body and dash, which are among the strong points of the Hudson type. Both the Hudson Sixes, the 54 and the 40—the "Light Six"—show the true streamline design in perfection.

The Skin Troubles of Childhood

School Records Show Much Time Lost From Eczema.

Chafing and skin irritation, whether from changing temperature, rough winds, strong soap or the action of the clothing, naturally develop into eczema, spread over the body and defy ordinary treatments.

Most doctors do not give much attention to skin diseases, and, consequently, it is necessary for parents to select some treatment which has proved a cure for such ailments. If records of cures could be analyzed, then you can turn to Dr. Chase's Ointment with fullest assurance that in this you will have the means of controlling itching skin diseases.

By affording prompt relief from the terrible itching, Dr. Chase's Ointment puts an end to suffering, and removes the cause of scratching. As the fire of eczema dies away the ointment sets up the process of healing, and brings about thorough and lasting relief. A treatment of the skin troubles of childhood nothing has ever proven so satisfactory as Dr. Chase's Ointment.

FRENCH STATE THEATER IS RUN BY CONJURORS

Brothers Isola Are Asked to Make the Opera Comique Pay.

ONCE THEY WERE JUST RUSTIC ENTERTAINERS
In 13 Years They Have Piled Up Fortunes and Leaped to Fame.

Paris, Jan. 24.—It is a fair cry from a conjuring-booth at a village fair to the management of a state lyrical theater, but this jump has been accomplished in thirteen years by the brothers Isola, who have just been appointed directors of the "Opera Comique" in the place of Albert Carre, who has passed on to the "Comedie Francaise."

"Lac Freres Isola," as they are always called, are as inseparable as the Siamese twins, and not one Frenchman in a thousand knows that one is named Emile and the other Vincent. Now that they have arrived at the culminating point of their career, unless another turn of fortune's wheel places them at the head of the "grand opera," they will have made a "early" history will prove interesting.

Before 1901 the brothers Isola were earning a precarious livelihood by giving simple conjuring entertainments in village schools, at country fairs, and even in the open air. They produced rabbits from hats before simple-minded rustics and extracted barbers' poles from their mouths with the dexterity born of long practice.

When the exhibition of 1900 transformed Paris into a world's fair they made a bid for fortune by taking a small conjuring-booth on the Boulevard des Capucines. One of their favorite tricks was to make a specter appear to come forward to the stage and allow himself to be fastened to a chair with a rope which was also secured around his clothes. One of the brothers was placed on a chair beside him, fastened to it without his knowledge. A screen was then placed around for a minute or so and then withdrawn. An apparent miracle had been accomplished. Both men were still securely tied. Just the specter's head had been transferred to the back of Vincent or Emile. The spectator declared that he had neither seen nor felt anything and the two conjurers were rewarded with an enthusiastic round of applause.

The trick was of course, worked with an accomplice. One evening, however, a strange thing happened. A man came forward and before the confederate had risen from his seat and resolutely took up his position on the chair. He was a young man, and the frightened tricksters vainly tried to dissuade him from undergoing an experiment which they said "was not devoid of danger." The public were beginning to get noisy and the man was therefore, tied up in the usual way. As soon as he was covered by the screen one of the brothers implored him not to spoil their show, pointing out that a fiasco would mean ruin to them. The spectator obligingly consented, allowed himself to be united and even took off his own coat. When the screen was removed he played the part of the astonished victim with commendable sincerity, and the brothers Isola got a harvest of applause. If the man had proved otherwise it is highly probable that the brothers Isola would still be assuring country audiences that "there is absolutely no deception."

Their conjuring show on the Boulevard des Capucines became popular, and they managed, in one short season, to amass enough money to pay the monthly rent of the famous "Folies Bergeres," which had momentarily fallen on evil days.

The brothers Isola are certainly gifted with energy and business acumen and they can find a skilled musical collaborator, may be able to accomplish an apparently impossible feat—that of making a stage theater pay its way.

SPRING HORSE SHOW TO MEET APRIL 11

Races Will Be Held This Year on May 23rd to 25th Inclusive.

FIRST MEETING

FAIR DIRECTORS

Many Matters Are Disposed of and Special Committees Appointed

A meeting of the directors of the Edmonton Exhibition Association was held on Wednesday. The meeting was attended and addressed by Mr. Major McManis, who referred to the report of the city auditor setting forth the fact that a more definite arrangement should exist between the city and the Exhibition Association than is at present in existence. After some discussion it was decided to appoint a committee to meet with the auditor, the city commissioners and the council, to endeavor to arrive at a more satisfactory agreement, and President Campbell appointed the executive committee for that purpose.

The request of the race committee for the spring and summer meetings was passed upon favorably by the finance committee, and very liberal and comprehensive programs will be put on for these two seasons. The spring races will be held on Saturday, May 23, and Monday and Tuesday, May 25 and 26.

The exact date for the Spring Horse Show and Cattle Sale was fixed on April 7 to 11. Official opening will take place on Tuesday evening. This is the week preceding Calgary and the committee have arranged with Vancouver that their spring show shall follow on April 27th.

Mr. Edwin Auld, who has for years identified himself with the Edmonton Exhibition as one of its strong supporters, was appointed a member of the reception and invitation committee.

The executive committee were appointed as a prize list committee for both the spring and summer shows with power to add to their number.

The question was proposed by one of the directors to keep an attractive exhibit of wild animals native to Alberta at the Exhibition grounds. The matter was left in abeyance for the present. Also a proposition was received from Mr. Wood of the Y.M.C.A. requesting permission on behalf of the school children of the city to give a pageant, sing patriotic songs and perform fancy drill, etc., in front of the grandstand on May 25. The matter was left to the executive committee with power to act.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1885—Jack Dempsey stopped Jim Felt in 4th round at New York. Felt was a Canadian lightweight, and a rugged, clever boxer, but he was not in the same class with the Irishman, Dempsey and Felt had fought the previous year when Jack was the victor. In that year too, Dempsey won the lightweight championship of America by defeating another Canadian, George Poulfmes. The Canuck held out for 2 rounds, when he was terribly beaten. In his seconds throw in the sponge. Both the Dempsey and Felt and Dempsey-Poulfmes bouts were fought with kid gloves under London prize ring rules.

1884—George Smith and "Marine" George La Blanche fought 6-round draw at Boston.

1911—Jim Barry defeated Andy Ferguson in 12 rounds at Boston.

FORD FIGHTS FIRES IN NATIONAL FOREST IN CALIFORNIA

Ford, Ont., Dec. 21.—A Ford roadster with a built on wooden rear seat and flanged wheels is doing excellent service in the Sierra National Forest, California, U.S.A. It is used on the San Joaquin and Eastern Railroad to transport fire-fighters and fire-fighting equipment as well as supplies from one part of the Forest to another. It is used also in patrol service, particularly to follow trains which traverse the National Forest in order that the ranger who makes it may suppress fires which might have been started along the right of way by sparks from the locomotives. There is a peculiar willpower in such a speeder in the Forest because of the difficulty of transporting fire-fighting apparatus by road and trail. The success of the Ford in this unique service has been pronounced from the day of its installation.

CHICAGO SORE AT FRANK GOETZ FOR BREAKING PROMISE

Windy City Officials Pleased
Because King of Grapplers
Failed to Keep Promise

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Frank Goetz, world's champion wrestler, never will be seen in Chicago again in a wrestling match, or even an exhibition bout, while the present city administration holds sway.

This announcement was made by city officials today after it was learned that Goetz had returned to the mat for a long visit.

Goetz incurred the displeasure of the city officials last summer when an effort was made to get him to come here and help out on an athletic program.

According to the story told today, Goetz agreed to come on last night, but at the last minute nothing was heard of him. The champion did not appear.

It is said that Goetz had been advertised and it is said that Goetz was through so far as Chicago is concerned. That Goetz declined to come when first approached is a matter, but he promised to come and then failed to keep his word.

It seems from what can be gleaned around the city hall that the city officials have been trying for Goetz for such an announcement. They say that he is a thorough commercial proposition and wants only the money there is in the game for him and that long as he can make money in his matches he is content to go along and be everybody's friend. But when a non-money making proposition is put up to him that he isn't willing to accept.

It is hinted that Goetz does not intend, since he is best paid to come back into the spotlight, to attempt any Chicago matches, but will confine his operations to Kansas City, where he always has been a favorite.

Regina Beat Melville.

Moore Bay, Reg., Jan. 24.—One of the most important games of the southern division of the S. A. H. A. season was played at Melville last night between the home team and the Regina Victorians. Both teams were led at the head of the league but by virtue of a 6-3 victory, the Regina boys are now in undisputed possession of first place. The Melville team was outplayed from start to finish and although they put up a plucky fight for the honors, they went under to a better aggregation.

HERE'S A "WALKER" CHALLENGE TO YOU FROM DAN O'LEARY

Has Covered 101,857 Miles in Eventful Career and is Hale
at Advanced Age

Los Angeles, Jan. 24.—Dan O'Leary, the veteran pedestrian, will have the walking fever, even though he is 70 years old.

He is now preparing for a contest here next April which will be open to Western Pacific (headland and O'Mister) and others who have good records to their credit. O'Leary, who is undoubtedly the fastest heel and toe walker among all pedestrians, besides being the most careful, says that he feels as buoyant now as he did in his prime days.

The walk proposed by O'Leary is to be 1,000 miles straightaway, and he hopes to see it covered in 12 or 13 days. Each contestant must post a forfeit of $100. The date for the walk has not been definitely selected for O'Leary says he is anxious to hear from Pacific Western, headland and others before doing so.

"When did you start to walk?" asked a bystander who was among those who crowded around him here today.

"When I was nine months old," he replied.

"And you've walked ever since?"

"Yes, I walked out of my cradle when I was nine months old. I walked behind a plow all day in Ireland before I came to America, and since I've been here I've walked right along. And I'm going to keep walking. They're stopping to keep me confined in a room for months and then take me out and put me to bed with a shovel. I'm going to walk into my grave," continued O'Leary, as he smiled.

"Where you ever sick, Mr. O'Leary?"

"I've never been sick, Mr. O'Leary," meekly inquired a nervous little lady who had been listening to O'Leary talk on walking.

"Yes," returned O'Leary with a bland smile. "I've been sick all my life listening to people talk of sickness with the beautiful big outdoors above them and a nice walk before them."

Here's the proposition that O'Leary makes:

"I am open to meet any man in the world in a thousand mile walk straightaway. I will meet any man in the world for $1,000 a side bet in such a race. Of course, I don't want one of those knock races where a thousand miles is walked in a thousand hours. Or here's another proposition that I will make. I'll walk ten miles in an average race, each entrant putting up $100 and the winner taking the money."

"But will you let young athletic men walk against you?" he was asked.

JOHNNY DUNDEE AND JOE MANDOT WINNERS

New York, Jan. 24.—Johnny Dundee of New York, and Young Shrusane of Brooklyn, fought a fast, furious bout here last night with honors even.

Joe Mandot, New Orleans, outfought and outboxed Johnny Dundee of New York, in every round of their 10-round contest except the second, in which the local boy did the better work.

NEGRO CHAMPION AND OPPONENT HE WILL MEET IN JUNE.

Above are pictured Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight, champion pugilist and Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, who will fight Johnson for 20 rounds in Paris in June. At the top is shown Johnson sparring with "Sultan" Burke, and at the right below, is a back view of the giant negro, showing the wonderful development of his back and arm muscles and the extraordinary length of his arms. Moran is shown at the lower left in fighting pose. Before Johnson signed the contract to fight Moran, he was guaranteed $25,000 as his end of the bout. Moran is to receive $3,000. Johnson agreed not to fight anybody before meeting Moran, and accepted the old-fashioned guardian of the heavy-toned rule which has been perambulating in this league since March 1907. The fight was from every angle and gave them a ride in his home town. The balance of the discipline never did get to the hearts of the fans as John, and so the tears for their departure are not falling so freely as in the case of the veteran.

THE GREAT LEADERS OF BASEBALL CONNIE MACK, JOHN MCGRAW, JENNINGS

This Article Deals With the Different Methods Used by These Great Managers and the Results Obtained by Them—Athletics Manager Have Won Five Pennants—Three of Them World's Championships.

Connie Mack, of the Athletics, and John McGraw of the Giants, as widely separated in temperament and in their managerial methods as the north and south poles, rank as the greatest leaders in baseball's history.

It's a natural question that follows such a situation, and it's a question that at first seems hard to answer. Yet, after studying the records of both, it seems that the honor of being the greatest leader must rightly be given to McGraw.

This statement is made in face of the fact that Mack has won as many championships—five in number—as has McGraw and that Mack has grabbed three world series championships in four starts, while McGraw has won but one in four starts.

The success of the Athletics has been due mainly to the ability of the players; the success of the Giants has been due mainly to the wonderful winning power of McGraw. He would a bunch of mediocre ball players into a pennant winning combination.

In 1912 Mack won the American League pennant because his team as a whole ranked as not only the best in that league, but the best in the world. With McGraw it was different. He entered the race in the spring of 1912 with an untried, brainy pitcher—the wonderful Mathewson—and with a team that, on paper, and in actual natural strength, ranked below three other teams in the National League.

Yet the Giants won the pennant by a wide margin. Why? The answer is, McGraw. He took his ordinary, mediocre ball players and made them into a machine. Then he oiled the machine with his own wonderful fighting spirit, stamped his brains that his men lacked, thought for them, acted for them and did about everything but play the game for them.

With any other manager but McGraw at the helm, the Giants never would have been in the race last year. When the team crumpled up early in the summer and seemed to have gone 30 pieces utterly, other managers would have felt that there was no chance to finish in the lead. But McGraw was different. He never gave in and he never let his men quit. The more they were pummeled and pounded around by their rivals, the faster they clunged up to their opponents.

The situation in 1913 was no exception to what it has been in other years. Fate seems to have ruled that each year Mack is to have a wonderful galaxy of brainy players, and that McGraw is to have nothing but mechanical men.

Look over the list of the men who have played on the Giant team since McGraw took charge back in 1903, excepting Mathewson there never has been one man on the Giant roster who composed in brains with Eddie Collins, Danny Murphy, Harry Davis and the other steady men that Mack has had.

Mack started in the American League, showing the wonderful development of his back and arm muscles and the extraordinary length of his arms. Moran is shown at the lower left in fighting pose. Before Johnson signed the contract to fight Moran, he was guaranteed $25,000 as his end of the bout. Moran is to receive $3,000. Johnson agreed not to fight anybody before meeting Moran, and accepted the old-fashioned guardian of the heavy-toned rule which has been perambulating in this league since March 1907. The fight was from every angle and gave them a ride in his home town. The balance of the discipline never did get to the hearts of the fans as John, and so the tears for their departure are not falling so freely as in the case of the veteran.

McGraw kept Marquard on the payroll for two years while the Giant fans were dubbing the "Rube" a $1,000,000 man. They feared Marquard was a bloomer. But McGraw figured that he slowly was blooming and that some day he'd rise up in his full bloom and look like the rarest flower in the major leagues.

Ranking next to McGraw and Mack as successful managers, are Hubehey, Jennings of the Tigers, and Frank Chance, former Cub manager, now leader of the New York Yankees. Chance resembles McGraw in temperament and in methods. He is a driver, a man who is feared by his players. No man ever worked under Chance to love him as the Athletics love their leader. Yet Chance drove his men to the top of the National League in 1904, 1907, 1908, and 1910, and annexed three world series titles.

But Jennings proved himself a diplomat as well as a manager. He made the warring players patch up their differences; he cemented breaches that seemed almost beyond mending; and he restored the Tiger gang to a peaceful happy family after a contested feud.

REGINA TEAM FOR 1914 WILL HAVE MANY NEW FACES IN VIEW

All But Five Members of Last Year's Team Will Be Traded or Sold;
Not Many Tears Wasted Over Those Who Have Gone—
Johnny Mackin Will Be the Most Missed Man.

We have learned that all but five members of the last year's Regina Red Sox baseball team had been ordered to be released outright, traded or otherwise disposed of. Only these five players—the management and Windy boys' bottled-out remains. Those too worthless to be traded, and there are many thus, will be put on the block and sold just as Uncle Tom was treated.

Many New Faces.

Regina fans will start the new year in the expectations that there will be many new faces in the line-up when the uncles call for next May. The tears are falling in streams on the contemplation of the abandonment of the old happy family, but whether they are the real species of the fluid or the crucible variety it is not stated. It was such a happy family, too, especially when they started out to boot the pill and they now have gone and busted it all. Well, if the hope of St. Louis good there won't be anything left for the happy family, except the fly-specked hanging lamp and the "God Bless Our Home" sign which hung on the wall. Even Father John Mackin could not be saved out of the wreck, for the regime was so bad and crushed the old old guardian of the heavy-toned rule which has been perambulating in this league since March 1907. The fight was from every angle and gave them a ride in his home town. The balance of the discipline never did get to the hearts of the fans as John, and so the tears for their departure are not falling so freely as in the case of the veteran.

Never again will the cherry voice of Connie Mackin ever be heard, through the empyrean over Regina, exhorting his men to follow. He has popped into their solid frames as if then had the very next chance which came his way, and yet the third base routers started on a rampage on the inconsistency of things in general.

Steve League Went Some.

With most of the Regina gardeners out of a job and a very little hope for new men to get on anywhere else as they could not qualify for the very best, the Regina Red Sox have been in full flight. In fact the blow was so hard that it is brighter than the fever of the Red Sox.

Then came the terrible reaction, the days from St. Louis have been discussed until only the clouds remain. But the silence is still unbroken and the stillness is so to listen, and the only word that is spoken is the whisper word "hope."

SIX AUTOMOBILE Builders have put a car on the Market for 1914 selling between $1500 and $1700 f.o.b. Edmonton.

Very few of them have Timken roller bearings throughout.

All of them have the electric lights and starter.

Some of them have the TWO-UNIT System of lighting and starting.

Three of them have the stream-line body with gasoline tank in the Dash.

Few of them have the FULL-FLOATING AXLE—not semi- or three-quarter floating.

Half of them have the clean running boards with spare rim behind.

Half of them the built-in windshield. Some of them the left-side drive and center control.

ONLY ONE of them has a production of 75,000 cars this year, which cuts the building cost down probably 30%. Only ONE of them sells for $1500 F.O.B. Edmonton. Only ONE of them has all the features mentioned above with many other improvements. Only one of them have a $5,000,000 Corporation behind it, which has enjoyed over sixty years of honorable business prosperity. This one is the "Studebaker," concerning which we extend the invitation to anyone who is interested to call and see the 1914 "FOUR" or "SIX" and compare them with any car selling within $400 of the price.
